

Asian Imperial Banking History

Editors: Hubert Bonin, Nuno Valério and Kazuhiko Yago

When European powers began annexing parts of Asia, the establishment of banking systems was an important part of that process. The essays in this edited collection are based on original research using primary sources in English, French, Russian, Chinese and Japanese. The book as a whole provides new insights into banking in imperial Asia and a platform for further research.

Banking, Money and International Finance: 3
240pp: 234x156mm: December 2014
HB 978 1 84893 551 8: £75/$120

Contents

Part I: The Specificities of Imperial Banking

Introduction: Issues Regarding Asian Imperial Banking –
Hubert Bonin

1 French Overseas Banking as an Imperial System: A
Background for Asian Developments – Hubert Bonin

Part II: Imperial Banking in China

2 Correspondent Banking Networks and Branch Activities in
'Imperial Banking': The Russo-Chinese Bank in Shanghai, 1902 – Kazuhiko Yago

3 Competing Imperial Banking: The Yokohama Specie Bank and HSBC in China – 1919 as a Watershed? – Niv Horesh

4 Native Banking vs Imperial Banking in Early Twentieth-Century China: The Formation of the Joint Reserve Board in Shanghai to Foster Credit and Credibility – Tomoko Shiroyama

Appendix 4.1

Appendix 4.2

Appendix 4.3

Appendix 4.4

5 British Banks and the Chinese Indigenous Economy: The Business of the Shanghai Branch of the Chartered Bank of India, Australia and China (1913–37) – Man-han Siu

Part III: Imperial Banking and Imperialism

6 Russian and Soviet Imperial Banking in Asia in the 1910s and 1920s – Sofya Salomatina

7 Challenging Imperial Banking in India: From the Legacy of Empire to Nationalistic Rules – Ashok Kapoor

Conclusion – Hubert Bonin

Now available as an eBook. Visit www.pickeringchatto.com/asianbanking for more information.

Special offer:

Get 25% off, when you order using the discount code AIBH25 at checkout when ordering via our website
www.pickeringchatto.com/asianbanking

PS Please note that the offer applies only to hardback copies.

PICKERING & CHATTO
PUBLISHERS