1. Global economic history: Towards an interpretive turn

Part I Anglo-American traditions
2. Economic history in Britain: The 'first industrial nation'
3. Beyond the old and the new: Economic history in the United States
4. Making a country (and an economy): Economic history in Canada
5. The rise and fall of Australian economic history

Part II West European roots and responses
6. The legacy of German economic history: Archetypes and global diffusion
7. Economic history in France: A Sonderweg?
8. Icarus' flight: Economic history in the Italian mirror
9. Manufacturing the historic compromise: Swedish economic history and the triumph of the Swedish model
10. Spanish economic history: Lights and shadows in a process of convergence
11. The Low Countries, intellectual borderlands of economic history

Part III Turning to the East
12. Economic history from the Russian Empire to the Russian Federation
13. A periphery at the centre of attention: Economic history in Poland
14. Continuity and discontinuity in the Czech and Slovak historiographies
15. Crossroads and Turns in Hungarian economic history

Part IV The wider world
16. Economic history in Middle Eurasia: Beyond histories of stagnation and deficiencies
17. The history of Indian economic history
18. Economic history in China: Tradition, divergence and potential
19. Japanese economic history: Exploring diversity in development
20. Latin American economic history: Looking backwards for the future
21. Mexico's economic history: Much more than cliometrics and dependency theory
22. The formation of economic history in Brazil: From the South Atlantic to South America
23. Beyond a footnote: Indigenous scholars and the writing of West African economic history

24. Reflections on the economic history of South Africa
25. African encounters with global narratives

Part V Challenges and ways ahead
26. Culture, power and contestation: Multiple roads from the past to the future